On the last day

On the last day, I laughed in the face of all my devils. I knew where I was going and knew they could not follow me. Next thing I felt was the cold water around me, life left my body and that is when I knew. My demons can swim.

Think twice

You know, I've always been the kind of person that enjoys helping people. My teacher lost his arm in Iraq and I saw he had trouble picking up some papers from his desk. So after class I walked up to him and without thinking I said «You need a hand?»

La Vita È Bella (It's a Wonderful Life)

I'm an old lady now. Sitting in my rocking chair, taking in the sunset glowing over my vineyard. My life has been rich and full. I spent my days loving, being loved, warmed by the rays of my beloved Spanish sun. I am at peace, willing to take God's hand.

RIna

The Traveller

She was standing, gazing at millions of raindrops travelling from grey sky to foggy earth. At last, she glanced around the noisy street. She wasn't alone at all, there were people everywhere she looked, but yet she has never felt greater loneliness.

It's been a year since she left home.

Dreamer

He came to me and I was slowly falling for him. I fell in love with his smell, his eyes, his lips... all of him. I enjoyed in his embrace and his kisses. He pleased me like no one before. But then the tune of alarm clock woke me up.

Goldfieber

Ein dicker Cowboy hat das Gold im Wilden Westen gesucht. Er sagte immer: „Ich werde so reich sein, dass ich im Gold schwimmen werde.“ Eines Tages hat er das Gold in einem Fluss gefunden. Aber er war zu ungeschickt, er ist ertrunken. Und so ist er im Gold geschwommen.

Un destin triste

C'était l'hiver. Moi et ma petite soeur avons décidé de faire un bonhomme de neige. Pour le nez il y avait une carotte, pour la tête il y avait une marmite. Il était très très grand. Le lendemain il y avait du soleil et le bonhomme de neige a fondu.
